

First Renmin University / GLO Conference

Call for Papers

Renmin University of China, Beijing
20 and 21 October 2018

The Renmin University / GLO Conference aims to provide a platform for researchers working on topics related to the Chinese labor market, including migration, discrimination, health and well-being, education, environment, labor market policies.

The event is organized by the School of Labor and Human Resources at Renmin University of China and the Global Labor Organization.

Keynote speakers

Shi Li (Beijing Normal University)
Xin Meng (Australian National University)
Junsen Zhang (Chinese University of Hong Kong)
Klaus F. Zimmermann (UNU-MERIT and Maastricht University)

Submissions

Papers or long abstracts should be submitted by August 15 2018 at renmin-glo@ruc.edu.cn

Program Committee:

Sylvie Démurger (French National Centre for Scientific Research), Shuaizhang Feng (Jinan University), Corrado Giulietti (University of Southampton), Jun Han (Renmin University of China)